MODERN BUSINESS

Modern business, according to a trite saying, is based on credit. And credit it may be added, is little more than another word for confidence. And confidence of course is begotten of general honesty. Undoubtedly the ethics of business are higher today than ever before, and better even than this, business is on the upgrade from an ethical as well as a material standpoint. And nothing has done more to promote business ethics and business confidence than judicious advertising. The most progressive and up-to-date concerns are and always will be the ones which have advertised most, and advertising a certain brand of goods, the firm producing or distributing it has naturally come to take pride in standardizing the product and seeing that it comes up to advance notices. Newspapers and periodicals of late years have entered into the game and as a result dishonest dealers, or dealers who misrepresent their goods, either intentionally or unintentionally are having an increasingly more difficult time in placing their advertising. So along with the increase in the quality of product has gone the increase in the quality of advertising. The two are now inseparable.

And just as advertising has become the life of modern trade it can truthfully be said that newspaper advertising is the great cornerstone of the publicity business for newspaper advertising is more important and more effective than all other forms of advertising put together. This is because the newspapers actually cover the reading country and are in touch with the people of the nation every day. As Mr. William A. Thompson, a nationally known advertising man, recently said:

"The American people spend about a million dollars a day in pennies to buy their newspapers, while advertisers are spending more than two and a quarter million dollars per day for newspaper advertising."

"The money paid out each twenty-four hour in newspaper pennies is a mathematical determination of this universal fixed daily habit of newspaper reading. The enormous sum spent every day for newspaper advertising shows how well advertisers understand the unusual opportunity the newspaper reading habit affords them."

"Wealth, buying power and population are concentrated where daily newspapers are published."

"It is a fact that the automobile business began its growth toward its present-day proportions after it turned to newspaper advertising. Car makers learned that only through the newspapers could every motor car prospect be reached. They recognized their newer and greater opportunity when they realized the vast army of new prospects created by the new era of national prosperity."

There can be no question of this. Advertising has helped to build the business of the nation and improve its quality. And newspaper advertising is the greatest advertising of all. The business man who has not yet learned this is not successful to the highest degree that is in him.

THE OUTLINE OF POLAR EXPLORATION

EARLY IN 1810 THE DUTCH DIRECTORS ORDERED HUDSON BACK TO AMSTERDAM BUT THE ENGLISH THOUGHT THAT IF HE WERE GOING TO DO ANY MORE EXPLORING IT SHOULD BE DONE FOR HIS OWN COUNTRY

THE REMNANT OF THE "HALF MOON" CREW REMAINED IN ENGLAND FOR A FEW MONTHS, THEN SAILED HER BACK TO HOLLAND. HER NEXT TRIP WAS TO INDIA, BUT THERE IS NO RECORD OF HER.

YOUNG BUFFALO BILL

THE NIGHT BEFORE OUR HERO AND THE BANDIT LEADER WAS DESPERATE. A BULLET OF THE OUTLAW'S HAD FOUND ITS MARK AND BILL WAS MOTIONLESS ON THE GROUND. HOWEVER BILL'S OWN LEAD HAD BROKEN THE WRIST OF THE FOX'S RIGHT HAND AND SHATTERED THE ELBOW OF THE LEFT ARM RENDERING THE DESPERADO UNABLE TO SEND A FINISHING SHOT INTO THE HEART OF HIS BOY.

THE BANDIT MANEUVERED HIS HORSE TILL HE COULD MOUNT HIM AND THEN TAKING THE REINS BETWEEN HIS TEETH RODE OUT INTO THE OPEN AGAIN, NOW BENT UPON MAKING THE DESPERATE LEAP ACROSS THE CHASM ALONE.

At the Chasm

WHEN CAME THE SOUND OF HURRYING HOOFEATS AND JOE APPEARED JUST AS THE BANDIT WAS MAKING HIS RUN FOR THE BRINK OF THE CHASM. GRABBING HIS LARIAT JOE SHOOK OUT A LOOP AND DASHED ON AFTER THE FLEEING OUTLAW RIDER.

Card, U. C. Track Stars Meet Saturday

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, April 16.—Two California-Stanford big meet records are almost sure to fall and several others will be far from safe when track and field teams of the two great rivals clash in their annual battle here Saturday afternoon.

Stanford's two strong men, Eric Krenz and Harlow Rothert, are expected to better the existing marks in the discus and shot, respectively. Krenz will be shooting at his own record of 154 feet 3 1/2 inches which he made last year, in the discus event. In the Olympic club meet March 9, Eric established a new world's record with a throw of 163 feet 8 1/2 inches and last Saturday without removing his sweat clothes and suffering from a severe cold and a wrenched back, the star weight man did 154 feet 8 1/2 inches, or two inches better than the California-Stanford mark.

"Tiny" Hartman made the existing record in the shot put in 1924, with a heave of 49 feet 8 1/2 inches. Rothert may eclipse this mark by as much as two feet for he has tossed the iron ball 51 feet 9 inches in practice this season. In the Washington meet at Seattle, Harlow set a new world's indoor record with an effort of 51 feet and 5 1/2 inch.

Other California-Stanford records which are entirely within reach of present competitors are two mile, high hurdles, javelin throw, pole vault and broad jump. Mossman of the Bears has done 9:34 3-5 in the eight lap sprint and may cut that down enough to endanger Coe's mark of 9:38 1-5. Capt. Nichols of the Cards is expected to tie his own record of 11 4-5 seconds in the high hurdles and Ward Edmonds may skim over the bar in the pole vault to improve his effort of last year. Kibby tossed the javelin 201 feet 11 inches last Saturday which is one foot and nine inches farther than Joaquin's record. Zumbro and Dowell of Stanford and Long of California might get out far enough to beat the broad jump record.

Of the 15 dual meet records, 11 are held by Stanford.

Woman Golfer Dies In Fall

SAN FRANCISCO, April 16. UP.—A fall from the third story of a downtown hotel, caused the death of Mrs. Helen Shedy, prominent golfer here late today.

The fall was not witnessed so police could not say whether it was an accident or an intentional leap. They learned the popular woman athlete had been ill and despondent over inability to participate in the California championship now being played.

She twice won the city title of San Francisco and was considered one of the best players in northern California.

Richmond Track Team To Meet University High

The meet will be held at the local oval. In the meantime Coaches Eddie Caine and Ivan W. Hill are planning to put their teams through a stiff workout before the contest.

Richmond lost its meet to the Roosevelt high school of Oakland yesterday.

OAKS DEFEAT SEALS IN FIRST

SAN FRANCISCO, April 16.—UP.—Visiting teams were victorious in all contests of the Pacific Coast league played today, a fact that brought most profit to the San Francisco Missions.

The Missions, playing at Portland, defeated the Beavers 9 to 2. Sacramento, guest of Los Angeles this week, won its game by a score of 7 to 2 and Oakland trounced the San Francisco Seals here, 9 to 3.

Consequently the Missions climbed within a game of the league-leading Angels and at the same time increased their lead over the San Francisco Seals to a game and a half.

Hollywood would not play at Seattle on account of a wet field. All the games were similar in many respects. In every case the winners were first to score and were never in danger after they took the early leads. An interesting sidelight was that Sacramento scored three times in the eighth inning when Backer, Osborne and Koehler hit home runs.

Richmond Hi-Y Cagers Lose To Berkeley Five

The Richmond Hi-Y basketball team went down to defeat before the strong Berkeley quintet at the Berkeley Y. M. C. A. last night. The score was 23 to 9 at the end of the game.

The lineup were: Berkeley (23)—Ofasacco and Kenney, forwards; Quaff, center; Saxton and Altthouse, guards. Subs: Gorman, Knight, Chamberlain and McNear.

Richmond (9)—Snodgrass and Potts, forwards; Thomason, center; Peters and Buchan, guards; Smith, Seawright, Roveda, Ferguson, Mallanni, Drexel, Halerman, Jewell, Regalia and Burden, subs.

DEPOSITION OF 'MA' READ TO SENATORS

SACRAMENTO, April 16.—(U.P.)—While senators discussed and the usually packed gallery was practically deserted, the deposition of Mrs. Minnie B. Kennedy, mother of Alvin Karpis, was read into the records of the Hardy impeachment trial today.

It was by all odds, the most interesting day of trial, as the entire deposition was made public in Portland, shortly after being taken there two weeks ago.

Over the protest of several senators the deposition was ordered read, with Assemblyman William Hornbower assuming the role of "Ma" Kennedy and Assemblyman Harry Sewell reading the questions propounded to her.

Rules Complied With
Many senators said that they would readily dispense with the oral presentation of the testimony of Mrs. Kennedy, but felt all the rules of a regular court should be complied with.

The only high spots in the reading came now and then when objections made by Rex Hardy, son of the accused jurist, at the time the deposition was first taken, were encountered, and President of the court H. L. Carnahan sustained or overruled the objections. None of the discussions was of particular importance in affecting the testimony of Mrs. Kennedy.

Highlights of the document were as follows:

Highlights
Mrs. Kennedy was asked to give her opinion of whether or not Judge Hardy rendered "legal services." After an examination by Rex Hardy of what constituted such service, she answered that in her opinion the judge's service to Angelus temple had been legal. In another place Mrs. Kennedy testified that the word "legal" on the $2500 have offering check indicated "both the character of the services he rendered and the fund from which the amount should be drawn."

Contradicts Hardy
Her testimony directly contradicted statements made by Judge Hardy before the state bar association of Sept. 29, 1928, when he told that body his service to Angelus temple was only friendly counsel.

With 262 pages in the deposition, prosecution and defense attorneys admitted that reading could not be finished before noon Wednesday. Spectators looking for the appearance of Alvin Karpis on the stand after the reading began.

A conference between Mrs. Kennedy and Brooks Hawkins, Los Angeles contractor, at which Judge Hardy was present was described by Mrs. Kennedy in her deposition. Hawkins was constructing a building for Angelus temple and encountered some difficulties with the temple during the work.

Suit Threatened
"The construction company was going to sue us and I asked Judge Hardy to attend a conference to and us in adjusting the matter," said Mrs. Kennedy.

At the end of the talk that night, Judge Hardy told his version of the situation. I told him, and Mr. Hawkins told him, "I don't think you deny, Mr. Kennedy, do you, that Judge Hardy had a legal mind and gave you such advice that night, did

Safe Harbor Held Great Aid To Shipping

For a full and complete picture of the situation, it is necessary to go back to the time when the ship was first sighted. The ship was first sighted on the morning of April 16, 1918, by a patrol boat of the United States Navy.

It was thought at first that the ship was a German merchant vessel, but it was later discovered that it was a German battleship. The ship was then taken to the harbor of San Francisco and held there for several days.

The O. and O. line now is making every effort at the harbor for the ship which are shipped to the Orient and Australia. It was pointed out that no difficulty would be encountered in getting the ship out of the harbor, but the general cargo which was on board had to be salvaged.

Next Calling Here
The ship was then taken to the harbor of San Francisco and held there for several days. The ship was then taken to the harbor of San Francisco and held there for several days.

a few agricultural leaders, former supporters of the McNary-Hauser bill who had espoused the Hoover cause during the campaign, because of the president's failure to offer any new and detailed farm relief plan. They confessed disappointment. The president endorsed in his message today, in general, terms and without precluding it, the measure drafted by the house committee. This bill sets up a federal farm board and provides other agencies for handling surplus crops, with a $500,000,000 revolving fund to finance corporations.

As regards the tariff, high protectionist Republicans saw in the president's admission that changes were needed in other rates besides those on agriculture an excuse for their attempt at a general revision upward, which is certain to provoke controversies with Democrats and prolong the session.
